Coping With Loss Susan Nolen-Hoeksema, Judith Larson, Judith M. Larson, 2013-01-11 Coping With Loss describes the many ways in which people cope with the death of someone they love Most earlier books on bereavement have fallen into two categories distillations of the clinical experience of individual therapists or collections of chapters reporting the results of empirical studies Each category is valuable but has tended to serve a narrow group of readers practitioners with particular theoretical orientations or researchers in quest of the latest findings Coauthored by a leading research psychologist and an experienced therapist who specializes in bereavement education and intervention this book is different The authors weave together the strands of theory research and clinical wisdom into a seamless and readable narrative While they discuss previous work they also present new data never before published from one of the largest studies of bereaved people ever conducted the Bereavement Coping Project Unlike most studies to date which focused on only one type of bereaved group usually widows or widowers the Bereavement Coping Project examined the experiences of several different groups during the first 18 months after the death The groups included those who had lost a spouse a parent an adult sibling or a child and those who had lost their significant other to cancer or cardiovascular disease on one hand as opposed to the stigmatized disease of AIDS on the other The book begins with a critical overview of theories of bereavement succeeding chapters explore in depth the impact of specific types of loss the impact of particular coping strategies on recovery the impact of social supports and religion and the special cases of children and of people who seem to grow and change for the better after a loss A final chapter considers implications for intervention with bereaved people Each chapter is richly illuminated with real life examples throughout and ends with a section called Voices in which bereaved people describe their various attempts to cope in their own words Insightful and informative

Too Much Loss: Coping with Grief Overload Alan Wolfelt, 2020-09-01 Grief overload is what you feel when you experience too many significant losses all at once in a relatively short period of time or cumulatively In addition to the deaths of loved ones such losses can also include divorce estrangement illness relocation job changes and more Our minds and hearts have enough trouble coping with a single loss so when the losses pile up the grief often seems especially chaotic and defeating The good news is that through intentional active mourning you can and will find your way back to hope and healing This compassionate guide will show you how Coping with Loss and Grief Geoffrey Glassock,1995 Healing Grief, Finding Peace Louis LaGrand,2011-10-01 Dr LaGrand's advice and recommendations reach from and to both heart and head a powerful and important lesson about grief that even in grief we can still grow Kenneth J Doka PhD senior consultant Hospice Foundation of America Through Your Loss Comes The Strength to Grow Whether the death of a loved one is sudden or follows a long battle with illness there is no way to prepare for the loss of someone close Grieving is painful but you have a choice in how you cope with grief and most importantly how you adapt to the intense loss you've experienced Grief counseling expert Dr Louis LaGrand describes 101 tips and prescriptions to help mourners through their tragic loss His specific coping strategies offer practical advice ultimately giving you pathways for achieving lasting inner peace by using the one thing you can control your own response to grief Heal your inner grief and find peace by Starting each day with an affirmative action Establishing a grief or worry time Planning in advance for birthdays anniversaries and important holidays Learning to enjoy new routines Letting go of if onlys and what ifs Never ruling out happiness Coping With Grieving and Loss Sandra Giddens,Owen Giddens,2002-12-15 Explains the stages of grieving and how to cope with loss and death including where to go for help The experience of grief and loss. A study about various people coping with grief Tariq raja Wassan,2020-10-19 Master's Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject Psychology Miscellaneous grade A Harvard University Harvard university course Psychology language English abstract This study qualitatively explores the experiences of nine people regarding their grief and loss Four women four men and a guest were interviewed using a set of open ended questions All the participants were interviewed once in a semi structured face to face format and were asked about their experiences of grief and loss A thematic analysis revealed key areas that included emotional reactions spirituality moving forward and memories of past losses remembering Moreover it includes sub themes such as controlling feelings hopelessness healing and harm These findings have the strength to add great depth to our understanding of the complexities associated with grief and loss Death has been a epicentre concern of human but in a society where death is being denied its place is ambiguous So death is final and irreversible Loss from death is fixed and permanent and for bereaved complete grief recovery from the loss may not occur Thus it is pertinent for counsellors to understand the experiences of bereaved individuals in order to bolster them in accepting the reality of death hinder lasting distress and agony and find resources to continue their lives In the contemporary era counsellors are exposed to loss and grief experiences in their personal lives and in their professional work According to Neimeyer 2004 every change in life involves loss and all losses require change The emotional reaction of loss is grief Muller and Thompson 2003 described the death of loved ones as the most penetrating loss individuals can experience and the most frequent and changing issue counsellors face with their clients Loss and grief are common themes and sources of presenting problems in counselling sessions
