Body Talk Rhetoric Technology Reproduction:

Body Talk Mary M. Lay, 2000 In recent decades human reproduction has been transformed in ways never imagined in 1900 new methods of contraception treatments for fertility and sexual dysfunction and new diagnostic tools have rapidly become an integral part of our culture and discourse Body Talk explores the rhetoric of reproductive technology throughout the twentieth century examining the ways discourse about these technologies has shaped thinking about reproduction and women's bodies framed public policy and empowered or marginalized points of view The chapters in Body Talk delve into such varied topics as the ownership and control of knowledge about birth societal definitions of normality and pathology definitions of the self issues regarding granting rights as citizens to fetuses the rights of mothers and views about the relationship between technology and religion

The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies Andrea A. Lunsford, Kirt H. Wilson, Rosa A. Eberly, 2008-10-29 The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies surveys the latest advances in rhetorical scholarship synthesizing theories and practices across major areas of study in the field and pointing the way for future studies Edited by Andrea A Lunsford and Associate Editors Kirt H Wilson and Rosa A Eberly the Handbook aims to introduce a new generation of students to rhetorical study and provide a deeply informed and ready resource for scholars currently working in the field

The State of Rhetoric of Science and Technology Alan G. Gross, Laura J. Gurak, 2020-08-26 The ubiquity of the Internet and digital technology has changed the sites of rhetorical discourse and inquiry as well as the methods by which such analyses are performed This special issue discusses the state of rhetoric of science and technology at the beginning of the twenty first century While many books connecting rhetorical theory to the Internet have paved the way for more refined and insightful studies of online communication the articles here serve as a reflective moment an opportunity to consider thoughtful statements from those who have published and been influential in the field

Liberalizing, Feminizing and Popularizing Health Communications in Asia Liew Kai Khiun, 2016-05-06 Liberalizing, Feminizing and Popularizing Health Communications in Asia provides insights into the manner in which biomedical discourses are communicated and portrayed in Asia in light of the rapidly evolving socio cultural technological and epidemiological undercurrents Highlighting the more pluralized and interactive dynamics in the appropriation and dissemination of medical and public health knowledge its specific case studies challenge the notions of the one way transmission of medicine by modern Western trained doctors and public health officials to ignorant patients and masses particularly in the non Western world With specific examples drawn from popular media this volume examines the extent to which these developments have given the broader public both greater access to information and choices Multidisciplinary in scope and truly international in focus it relates the everyday of health communications to more macro social trends on the Asian continent and will be of interest to scholars within science and technology studies media and cultural studies and sociology alike

Research Methods in Health Communication Bryan B. Whaley, 2014-07-11 This volume provides an essential roster of primary research methods as they apply to health communication inquiry Editor Bryan B Whaley brings together key health communication researchers to write about their primary methodological areas Their chapters offer guidance and insights for a variety of approaches to answering research questions The methods included here cover Exploration and Description interview focus groups case study ethnography and surveys Examining Messages and Interpersonal Exchanges narrative analysis conversational analysis analyzing physician patient interactions social network analysis and content analysis Causal Explication experimental research meta analysis and meta synthesis and Cultural Population and Critical Concerns rhetorical methods and criticism and methodological issues when investigating stigmatized populations and groups with health disparities Chapters cite or use examples from allied health areas nursing public health sociology medicine to demonstrate the breadth of health communication studies This work highlights the importance of methodology in health communication research in multiple contexts Developed to provide a fundamental reference for investigating health communication this volume will serve as an invaluable tool for researchers and students across the social science and health disciplines

Rhetorical Bodies Jack Selzer, Sharon Crowley, 1999 What significance does the physical material body still have in a world of virtual reality and genetic cloning How do technology and postmodern rhetoric influence our understanding of the body And how can our discussion of the body affect the way we handle crises in public policy the politics of race and ethnicity issues of family values that revolve around sexual and gender identities the choices revolving around reproduction and genome projects and the spread of disease Leading scholars in rhetoric and communication as well as literary and cultural studies address some of the most important topics currently being discussed in the human sciences The essays collected here suggest the wide range of public arenas in which rhetoric is operative from abortion clinics and the World Wide Web to the media s depiction of illiteracy and the Donner Party These studies demonstrate how the discourse of AIDS prevention or Demi Moore s beautiful pregnancy call to mind the physical nature of being human and the ways in which language and other symbols reflect and create the physical world

On Mothering Multiples: Complexities and Possibilities Kathy Mantas, 2016-01-01 Demeter Press took on the challenge of discussing multiples through On Mothering Multiples Complexities and Possibilities a book that promised to re explore re present and make meaning of the process of conception pregnancy childbirth and mothering experiences with multiples Under the editorship of Kathy Mantas and through diverse contributions of research artwork and narrative pieces this topic is explored with diverse voices that elicit nuance towards a subject that often suffers from cliché and overt charm Daring to taunt the reader who may be beguiled by the blessing of multiples with an unflinching look at subjects such as fetal demise disability post partum depression the beauty and the beast of the post twin maternal body and the society s obsession and derision with multiples conceived through assistive reproductive technology this book is a foundational text on the topic of the messiness of multiple births and mothering This collection manages to be both intensely personal while maintaining the scholarly distance necessary to offer an important contribution to the field of motherhood studies as well as intersecting with grief work and disability studies Published in 2016 this book remains provocative and stealth in how it unfurls its wisdom providing both clarity and further Technology and Culture, 2001 Interfacing Dance and Technology Isabel Cavadas Valverde, 2004 Rhetoric, Medicine, and the Impact of Technologies on Subjects and Statements Jennifer Leigh Novak, 2007 Webbing Cyberfeminist Practice Kristine Blair, Radhika Gajjala, Christine Tulley, 2009 This is the first book collection to devote itself exclusively to issues related to women's lives in a culture of technology As such it is a key addition to feminist new media scholarship in computers and composition The book holds special appeal as the editors have put into conversation chapters of authors from diverse disciplines The value that is placed on cross disciplinary work is further demonstrated in the mix of theoretical pedagogical and rhetorical research that enriches the book in its entirety To explore the variety of cyberfeminist webs the collection has been organized around three themes Chapters in Forming Virtual Kinships examine cyberfeminist practices that do not neatly operate in standard academic communities such as classrooms or cultural centers instead foregrounding the extent to which female communities evolve around aspects of women's daily lives as mothers consumers and workers Chapters in Redrawing Academic Boundaries offer a glimpse of practice within more defined pedagogical spaces providing a sense of the ways in which classroom and community network boundaries are often blurred and disrupted Last the text moves to explore how cyberfeminist webs both on the beyond the borders of standard spaces are developed using a variety of theoretical standpoints The Strategic Technical Communicator David William Norton, 2001 Situational Analysis Adele E. Clarke, 2005-03-30 This book provides a detailed and comprehensive introduction to situational analysis of qualitative data Adele E Clarke personally created the situational analysis approach no other book currently deals with it She carefully situates herself and the situational analysis approach vis vis other current approaches to grounded theory specifically and to qualitative data analysis more generally Situational analysis is unique in that it both uses and extends grounded theory it employs established coding and memoing strategies while extending the method to include three new kinds of maps and analyses of the situation focused upon in one's research This is also the first publication about using grounded theory with historical visual and discursive materials The Empty Cradle of Democracy Alexandra Halkias, 2004-09-24 An ethnographic study that shows how similar national and cultural beliefs about gender sexuality and Greekness are the basis of both the public condemnation of abortion and its prevalence in Greece Feminist Bookstore News, 1999 Bodies of Knowledge Eugenia Georges, 2008 Recipient of the 2006 Norman L and Roselea J Goldberg Prize for the best project in the area of medicine The author a second generation Greek American returned to Greece with her young daughter to do fieldwork over the course of a decade Focusing on Rhodes an island that blends continuity with the past and rapid social change in often unexpected ways she interviewed over a hundred women doctors and midwives about issues of reproduction The result is a detailed portrait of how a longstanding system of local gynecological and obstetrical knowledge under the control of women was rapidly displaced in the the period following World War II and how the technologically intensive biomedical model that took its place in turn assumed its own distinctive signature Bodies of Knowledge is a vivid ethnographic study of how a presumably globalizing and homogenizing process like medicalization can be reshaped as women and medical experts alike selectively accept or reject new practices and technologies Georges found for example that women in Rhodes have enthusiastically embraced some new technologies like fetal imaging during pregnancy but rejected others like medical contraception They are also avid consumers of popular childbirth manuals This book is the recipient of the 2006 Norman L and Roselea J Goldberg Prize for the best project in the area of medicine Our Bodies, Ourselves and the Work of Writing Susan Wells,2010-01-21 This book is a sociological and rhetorical analysis of the best selling guide to women s health the collectively authored Our Bodies Ourselves America, History and Life ,2007 Article abstracts and citations of reviews and dissertations covering the United States and Canada U.S. Breastfeeding Education and Promotion, 1978-99 Amy Lunn Koerber,2002 Bibliographic Index ,2001
