of Art History is a course that provides context for English language learners so they may experience self discovery through the venue of art. It is designed for young adults on the junior college level and can be adapted to all educational levels. When art is incorporated into an ESOL core curriculum it enhances students' engagements, comprehension increases, whole brain activity and challenges overall growth in their learning process. Upon completion of the course students will be able to identify and recognize six periods of art history, learn new vocabulary and be able to express their feelings through the written word, oral discussions and experience self discovery through the venue of art. They can make interdisciplinary connections as they explore the life and times of self portrait artists and create their own art and self portraits from the perspective of different time periods and artists.

Epistola Posteritati K. A. E. Enenkel, Betsy de Jong-Crane, P. Th. M. G. Liebrechts, 1998 A collection of essays concerning the nature of Renaissance biographies and portraits which contextualise the works in order to understand their contemporary significance

Creating a Self-portrait Tom Coates, 1989

Self-portraits by Women Painters Liana Cheney, Alicia Craig Faxon, Kathleen Lucey Russo, 2000 The first survey of women's self portraiture to be focused exclusively on painting this book opens with an original attempt to reconstruct from contemporary accounts the work of artists of antiquity such as Marcia Timarete and Eirene. The authors then select self portraits by a range of European and American painters up to the present day to narrate the stylistic development of women's self representation in those parts of the world. The story of the self portrait offers fascinating insights which deepen our understanding of these artists' working lives, priorities and preoccupations. With its chronological sweep, its lavish illustrations including many works which have not been reproduced in print before and its extensive bibliography this book is an indispensable guide to a fascinating subject.

The Mirror and the Palette Jennifer Higgie, 2022-09-13 A dazzlingly original and ambitious book on the history of female self portraiture by one of today's most well respected art critics. Her story weaves in and out of time and place. She's Frida Kahlo, Louisa Matulova, and Amrita Sher-Gil en route to Mexico City, Paris or Bombay. She's Suzanne Valadon and Gwen John craving city lights, the sea and solitude. She's Artemisia Gentileschi striding through the streets of Naples and Paula Modersohn-Becker in Worpswede. She's haunting museums in her paint-stained dress, scrutinising how El Greco or Titian or Van Dyck or Caravaggio solved the problems that she too is facing. She's railing against her corsets, her chaperones, her husband and her brothers, she's hammering on doors, dreaming in her bedroom, working day and night in her studio. Despite the immense hurdles that have been placed in her way, she sits at her easel, picks up a mirror and paints a self portrait because as a subject she is always available. Until the twentieth century art history was in the main written by white men who tended to write about other white men. The idea that women in the West have always made art was rarely cited as a possibility. Yet they have and of course continue to do so often against tremendous odds, from laws and religion to the pressures of family and public disapproval. In The Mirror and the Palette Jennifer Higgie introduces us to a cross section of women artists who embody the fact that there is more than one way to understand our planet, more than one way to live in it and more than one way to make art about it Spanning 500 years biography and cultural history intertwine in a narrative packed with tales of rebellion adventure revolution travel and tragedy enacted by women who turned their back on convention and lived lives of great resilience creativity and bravery Mars Rover Danielle Smith-Llera,2017-07
