resolved by the naked eye much less the stinking little overheated mote that rotated about Proxima Obviously unfit for human life and patently incapable of spawning life of its own it was Paul Grayson s destination and would be his home for a few days or a few weeks depending entirely upon whether things went good or bad Only during the last four out of two thousand millions of years of its life had this planet been useful Man needed a place to stand not to move the earth with Archimedes s lever but to survey the galaxy Proxima Centauri I was the only planet in the trinary and as bad as it was it was useful for a space station In an hour Paul Grayson would be locked in a capsule of metal hurling himself through space towards Proxima I He was looking forward to ten days cooped up in a spacecraft of the type furnished by the Bureau of Astrogration to its engineers which was a far cry from the sumptuous craft run by the Big Brass His confines would be lined with functional scientific equipment his air supply would be medically acceptable but aesthetically horrible and his vision limited to the cabin for beyond the viewports would be only the formless endless abysmal blackness of absolutely nothing while the ship mounted into multiples of the speed of light Then days in a building filled to the dome with power equipment and radio gear timing mechanism and recorders and a refrigerator set up that struggled with the awesome heat poured into Proxima I by its close by luminary but which succeeded only in lowering the temperature to the point where the potting compound in the transformers did not run out where the calibrating resistors would not change their values where the recording machines would still make a record And then again more days in the ship before it returned to earth Call it thirty days and understand why Paul Grayson sauntered along killing time in the fresh air before taking off Paul grinned Four years ago he had arrived a full hour early and wasted the hour in the smelly ship instead of filling his lungs with clean fresh air Never again He would arrive a full five minutes before check in time He heard some radio music its tone stripped of high frequencies from its passage through the slit of a partially opened window He sniffed the air and laughed because someone was cooking corned beef and cabbage Then he was out of the range of the radio music Paul liked music He hummed a tune as he walked and then as the fancy struck him he started to sing It was faint singing it would not have carried more than a few feet but it sufficed for Paul It was a refrain from an early atomic age ballad Round and round and round go the deuterons Round and round the magnet swings them Round and round and round go the deuterons Smack In the target goes the ion beam Paul stopped his song because the interesting click of high heels on the sidewalk pointed to the approach of someone who might view a cappella singing as an indication of inebriation To be continue in this ebook Jersey Performance Register ,1955 Vol 1 contains official production records and official type ratings accepted during the 8 year period January 1 1943 through December 31 1950 inclusive *The Australasian Coursing Calendar ...
