Bloom,2016-11-08 The Oxford Mid Century Studies series publishes monographs in several disciplinary and creative areas in order to create a thick description of culture in the thirty year period around the Second World War With a focus on the 1930s through the 1960s the series concentrates on fiction poetry film photography theatre as well as art architecture design and other media The mid century is an age of shifting groups and movements from existentialism through abstract expressionism to confessional serial electronic and pop art styles The series charts such intellectual movements even as it aids and abets the very best scholarly thinking about the power of art in a world under new techno political compulsions whether nuclear apocalyptic Cold War propagandized transnational neo imperial super powered or postcolonial The Wireless Past chronicles the emergence of the British Broadcasting Corporation BBC as a significant promotional platform and aesthetic influence for Irish modernism from the 1930s to the 1960s This is the first book length study of Irish literary broadcasting on the BBC and situates the works of W B Yeats Elizabeth Bowen Louis MacNeice and Samuel Beckett in the context of the media environments that shaped their works Drawing upon unpublished radio archives this book shows that radio broadcasting rather than prompting a break with literary history and traditional literary forms in fact served as an important means for reinterpreting the legacies of oral and print traditions In the years surrounding World War II radio came to be seen as a catalyst for literary revivals and simultaneously a force for experimentation This double valence of radio the conjoining of revivalism and experimentation create a distinctive radiogenic aesthetics in mid century modernism A Concordance to the Poems of W.B. holds dear and celebrates even through intense sensual and spiritual conflict These poems touch emotional chords most poets leave unsounded and vibrate with the jazz riffs and rhythms of Levine s language The London Mercury ,1938
