Reassessing the archive of the Black Hawk War The Corpse in the Kitchen explores relationships between the enclosure of Indigenous land histories of resource extraction and the literary culture of settler colonialism While conventional histories of the Black Hawk War have long treated the conflict as gratuitous Adam John Waterman argues that the war part of a struggle over the dispensation of mineral resources specifically mineral lead and the emergence of new cultures of killing and composition The elemental basis for the fabrication of bullets lead drawn from the mines of the upper Mississippi contributed to the dispossession of Indigenous peoples through the consolidation of U S control over a vital military resource Rendered as metallic type Mississippian lead contributed to the expansion of print culture providing the occasion for literary justifications of settler violence and promulgating the fiction of Indigenous disappearance Treating the theft and excarnation of Black Hawk s corpse as coextensive with processes of mineral extraction Waterman explores ecologies of racial capitalism as forms of inscription documentary traces written into the land Reading the terrestrial in relation to more conventional literary forms he explores the settler fetishization of Black Hawk s body drawing out homoerotic longings that suffuse representations of the man and his comrades Moving from print to agriculture as modes of inscription Waterman looks to the role of commodity agriculture in composing a history of settler rapine including literal and metaphoric legacies of anthropophagy Traversing mouth and stomach he concludes by contrasting forms of settler medicine with Black Hawk s account of medicine as an embodied practice understood in relation to accounts of dreaming and mourning processes that are unforgivably slow and that allow time for the imagination of other futures other ways of being      A Corpse in the Kitchen P Bodi,2016-10-29 This book is a clean Cozy Mystery short story that does not contain any foul language sexual situations witches or paranormal events After the recent death of another proprietor in the small town of Elkridge Violet decided it was time to invest in a security system for Mother Earth s Kitchen Violet has been assured that even with her lack of technology skills this new gadget should bring her peace of mind Will that new security system give her the peace of mind she s looking for or could it result another dead body      Dream Kitchen Owen McLeod,2019-04-15 Owen McLeod s extraordinary debut maps the contours of an ordinary life the rise and fall of romantic love the struggle against mental illness and the unending quest for meaning and transcendence Ranging from sonnets and sestinas to experimental forms these poems are unified by their musicality devotion to craft and openness of heart      Garden of the Dead Andrew Neiderman,2011-08-01 The new novel from the best selling storyteller Randy Quinn took over his father s position as manager of an exclusive cemetery despite the negative opinions of his friends and contemporaries about the job Still unmarried and living in his parents house after their passing he is worried about grave robbers when the relatives of a wealthy man insist on burying him with expensive jewellery But when as he feared the grave is disturbed he uncovers the coffin and makes a shocking discovery      Kitchen Curse Eka
