Asian Security 1996-1997:

Asian Security, 1997 Asian Security 1996-1997 Research Institute for Peace and Security, 1997 The Research Institute for Peace and Security RIPS is an independent research centre established in Tokyo in 1978 It has four aims to conduct research and studies concerned with international peace and security to promote greater public understanding of security issues to make policy recommendations where appropriate and to advance an international exchange of views and contacts with related institutes and specialists throughout the world Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals, 1996 Central Asian Security Roy Allison, Lena Jonson, 2004-05-13 This volume is the first comprehensive scholarly analysis of the strategic reconfiguration of Central Asia as Russia has become more disengaged from the nations in the region and as these nations have developed new relations to the south east and west The international implications are enormous because of the rich energy sources oil and natural gas located in the Caspian Sea area The authors assess a variety of internal security policy challenges confronting these states for example the potential for conflict arising from such factors as a mixed ethnic population resource scarcity particularly in relation to water management and an Islamic revival They also examine the security policy content of relations between the Central Asian states and regional and international powers specifically the stakes interests and policies of Russia China Iran Turkey and the United States These internal challenges and the evolution of relations with external powers may result in new cooperative relationships but they may also lead to destabilizing rivalry and interstate enmity in Central Asia It is important to identify new patterns of relevance for future security cooperation in the region but the potential for a new security system or for new institutions to manage security in the region remains uncertain These issues are explored by a team of prominent specialists from Western Europe the United States Russia and China Japan's Security Relations with China Since 1989 Reinhard Drifte, 2005-08-03 1 Japanese Chinese relations under Cold War conditions 2 The rise of traditional and non traditional security concerns 3 Between power balancing and enmeshment policies 4 The dynamics of engagement Thai Migrant Workers in East and Southeast Asia, 1996-1997 Suphāng Chanthawānit, Andreas Germershausen, Allan Beesey, 2000 Brassey's Mershon American Defense 1996-1997 Williamson Murray, Allan R. Millett, 1996-09 A comprehensive nonpartisan review and analysis of the major issues and trends in American national security policy China and East Asian Security in the Post-Cold War Era Yew Meng Lai, 1999 The authors analysis of Chinas relations with the countries of East Asia in the post Cold War era is seen from the perspectives of neorealism in general and by the utilization of the concepts of balance of power and the notion of strategic culture in particular It is boldly argued that Chinas behaviour towards other nations in East Asia is a source of great anxiety and tension China with its military build up its provocations foreign and defence policies and others serve as a major security threat In the final analysis the author calls for the United States to play a more assertive role in the region to counter balance Chinas potential expansionist goals http://www.ums.edu.my/ppib/buku_lai.html International Security

The Role of Knowledge Communities in Constructing Asia-Pacific Security See Seng Tan, 2007 This study addresses the dearth of critical and or post positivist perspectives in security studies of and about the Asia Pacific region It demonstrates how regional communities of security specialists and intellectuals including knowledge communities such as ASEAN Institutes of Strategic and International Studies ASEAN ISIS and the Council for Security Cooperation in the Asia Pacific CSCAP have contributed to just such a state centric political imaginary at the expense of alternative ideas while promoting and legitimizing their own identities as authorities on regional security
