Arab Manpower J. S. Birks, C. A. Sinclair, 1980 Mobilizing Human Resources in the Arab World (RLE Economy of Middle East) R. Paul Shaw, 2015-05-15 R Paul Shaw has travelled widely in the Arab world obtaining data and gathering impressions first hand from national and local planners In this book he identifies population and manpower problems that are likely to become more serious and more difficult to solve if they are neglected at this early stage of Arab development He focuses on five broad areas which are directly or indirectly related to mobilizing human resources and his book will be of special interest to all those who are concerned with such issues as population migration employment inequality the emancipation of women construction and agriculture Dr Shaw proposes policy directives which are sensitive to the problems as they are seen by the Arab governments themselves and sets out practical guidelines which can be used by Arab planners and policy makers An important feature of the book with respect to current literature on Arab development is that it moves away from a preoccupation with growth related investments to a concentration on development related population manpower and employment issues By bringing together such comprehensive empirical and bibliographic information it will also be invaluable as a reference source for some twenty Arab countries First published in 1983 Arab Manpower J.S. Birks, C. A. Sinclair, 2016-11 The Arab world increasingly falls into two divisions the capital poor and the capital rich countries where capital means in essence oil In the capital rich countries shortage of labour is the chief constraint on growth In the capital poor countries analysis of the labour market is equally central as shortage of labour compounds the already existing problem of shortage of capital This book surveys the labour markets of the Arab world state by state evaluating them by demand and supply analysis and analysing the different elements in trends of employment It forecasts the areas of stress in the next decade and suggests ways of minimising them The book based on much previously unpublished information and on extensive on the spot research in the respective Arab countries sets out the economic and social conditions which underly the impending crisis of development in the Arab region First published in 1980 Saudi Arabia Nadav Safran, 1988 Combining vast scholarship and a deep understanding of Arab culture Nadav Safran has written a sophisticated book about the politics of Saudi Arabia In a narrative that emphasizes the Saudis sense of the precariousness of their state and of their position in the Middle East Safran demystifies the behavior of the Kingdom s rulers Security has long been the predominant concern of Saudi Arabia In 1981 the Kingdom s defense and security budget was an immense 25 billion the fourth largest in the world after the United States the Soviet Union and China and the highest in the world on a per capita basis Safran traces the roots of Saudi preoccupation with security through half a century discerning political struggles and policy differences in the Saud family and how they have affected the position of the country His treatment provides an enlightening perspective on the interplay of the politics of the elite shifting inter Arab alignments and rivalries war revolution and other cataclysmic events in the Persian Gulf the ongoing Arab Israeli conflict and the involvement of the United States in the Middle East Women At
