military intelligence and formed positive opinions of one another As the threat of Germany and Japan grew army officers were the first to anticipate the need for an alliance between their nations and to begin thinking about ways to structure their combined forces Using untapped archival sources official reports and officers personal papers Bamford presents an important and engaging new analysis of how this partnership grew out of the experiences and initiative of British and US Army officers and attaches during World War I and the two decades that followed Diplomatically Speaking Lloyd Carpenter Griscom,1943 The Great Round World, and what is Going on in it ,1899 Donahoe's Magazine ,1892
