Disability Liberation And Development:

Disability, Liberation, and Development Peter Coleridge,1993-01-01 Disabled people are marginalized in every country of the world both North and South By probing these prejudices and studying cases where they have been overcome this book provides an insight into the processes of liberation and empowerment Disability, Liberation and Development

Peter Coleridge,1993 Disability, liberation and development ,1993 Disability, Health and Human Development

Sophie Mitra,2017-09-05 This open access book introduces the human development model to define disability and map its links with health and wellbeing based on Sen s capability approach The author uses panel survey data with internationally comparable questions on disability for Ethiopia Malawi Tanzania and Uganda It presents evidence on the prevalence of disability and its strong and consistent association with multidimensional poverty mortality economic insecurity and deprivations in education morbidity and employment It shows that disability needs to be considered from multiple angles including aging gender health and poverty Ultimately this study makes a call for inclusion and prevention interventions as solutions to the deprivations associated with impairments and health conditions The Global Politics of Impairment and Disability

Helen Meekosha,Karen Soldatic,2016-01-13 Disability is of central concern to the developing world but has largely been under represented in global development debates discourses and negotiations Similarly disability studies has overlooked the theorists or the social experience of the global South and there has been a one way transfer of ideas and knowledge from the North to the South in this field This volume seeks to redress the processes of scholarly colonialism by drawing together a diverse set of understandings theorizing and experiences The chapters situate disability within the Southern context and support the work of Southern disabled scholars and activists seeking to decolonize Southern experiences knowledges and absences in the field while simultaneously attempting to make an intervention into able bodied mainstream development discourses practices and politics This book was originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly The Routledge Handbook of Disability in Southern Africa

Tsitsi Chataika,2018-07-27 This comprehensive ground breaking southern African centred collection spans the breadth of disability research and practice Reputable and emerging scholars together with disability advocates adopt a critical and interdisciplinary stance to prove challenge and shift commonly held social understanding of disability in traditional discourses frontiers and practices in prominent areas such as inter national development disability studies education culture health religion gender sports tourism ICT theatre media housing and legislation This handbook provides a body of interdisciplinary analyses suitable for the development of disability studies in southern Africa Through drawing upon and introducing resources from several disciplines theoretical perspectives and personal narratives from disability activists it reflects on disability and sustainable development in southern Africa It also addresses a clear need to bring together interdisciplinary perspectives and narratives on disability and sustainable development in ways that do not undermine disability politics advanced by disabled people across the world The handbook further acknowledges and builds upon the huge body of literature that understands the social cultural educational psychological economic historical and political facets of the exclusion of disabled people The handbook covers the following broad themes Disability inclusion ICT and sustainable development Access to education from early childhood development up to higher education Disability employment entrepreneurship and community based rehabilitation Religion gender and parenthood Tourism sports and accessibility Compelling narratives from disability activists on societal attitudes toward disability media advocacy accessible housing and social exclusion Thus this much awaited handbook provides students academics practitioners development partners policy makers and activists with an authoritative framework for critical thinking and debates that inform policy and practice in incomparable ways with the view to promoting inclusive and sustainable development

Encyclopedia of Disability Gary L Albrecht,2006 Presents current knowledge of and experience with disability across a wide variety of places conditions and cultures to both the general reader and the specialist

The Political Economy of Disability and Development Barbara Harriss-White,1996

Disability and Poverty in the Global South Shaun Grech,2015-08-25 Drawing from long term ethnographic work and practice in Guatemala this incisive and interdisciplinary text brings in perspectives from critical disability studies postcolonial theory and critical development to explore the various interactions and dynamics between disability and extreme poverty in rural areas

Disabled People and Development Lorna Jean Edmonds,2005 This document aims to provide a consolidated set of guidelines to identify and address the issues affecting people with disabilities in poverty reduction strategies These will assist people in the identification design preparation and implementation of projects P 3

Disability and Education in an African Context Robert Chimedza,Susan J. Peters,2001

A City for All Jo Beall,1997 By the turn of the century more than half the world's population will live in urban areas This rapid pace of urbanization is forcing a rethinking of development priorities and this book explores some of those initiatives The book opens with an introduction to the issues of urban development taking a human development perspective as its central theme Best practice in sustainable human settlements around the world is explored through an analysis of the nature of diversity in the city organizational and participative issues and the question of gender The contributors look at the experience of living and working in a variety of cities of creating secure homes and neighbourhoods of design and the creation of sustainable environments and the provision of health services and transport Chapters examine how women older people and people with disabilities experience life in the city Case study material examines the urban experience in countries as diverse as India Indonesia Somalia Peru Spain and Britain Throughout the contributors discuss practical examples of valuing difference and diversity illustrating the need for an inclusive city a city for all

Disability Studies Quarterly ,1999

Disability & the Politics of Education Susan Lynn Gabel,Scot Danforth,2008 Disability and the Politics of Education An International Reader is a rich resource that deals comprehensively with the many aspects of the complex topic of disability studies in education For nearly two decades global attention has been given to education as a human right through global initiatives such as Education for All EFA and the Salamanca Statement Yet according to UNESCO reaching the goals of EFA remains one of the most daunting challenges facing the global community Today millions of the world s disabled children cannot obtain a basic childhood education particularly in countries with limited resources Even in the wealthiest countries many disabled children and youth are educationally segregated from the nondisabled particularly if they are labeled with significant cognitive impairment International agencies such as the United Nations and the World Bank have generated funds for educational development but unfortunately these funds are administered with the assumption that west is best thereby urging developing countries to mimic educational policies in the United States and the United Kingdom in order to prove their aid worthiness This McDonaldization of education reproduces the labeling resource allocation and social dynamics long criticized in disability studies The authors in this volume explore these subjects and other complexities of disability and the politics of education In doing so they demonstrate the importance and usefulness of international perspectives and comparative approaches

Development for Health ,1997 The achievement of Health for All by the Year 2000 has been the declared goal of the international community for almost 20 years Yet with deepening economic disparity within and between nations millions are denied access to basic care

Discussion Paper ,1987

Environment and Development in the Pacific Islands Ben Burt,Christian Clerk,1997

Augmentative and Alternative Communication and Severe Disabilities Erna Alant,Lyle Lloyd,2005-11-29 Communities and countries who are not affluent or economically and socially disadvantaged present their own set of intervention circumstances that need to be taken into account when planning intervention for people with disabilities particularly those with AAC need These contexts provide not only professionals but all partners involved in the intervention process with unique challenges that require a reevaluation of AAC intervention programmes This book presents a different perspective on AAC intervention by focusing on the application of various AAC related issues within a poverty context It is intended for advanced students and professionals across disciplines that are interested in extending their knowledge and critical thinking to advance issues surrounding AAC intervention within a poverty context

Journal of Disability Policy Studies ,2002

Disability in Different Cultures Brigitte Holzer,Arthur Vreede,Gabriele Weigt,1999 How are disability and rehabilitation conceived of in different cultures How can these concepts be made accessible Studies from the fields of sociology ethnology and educational science address these questions while contributors from rehabilitation projects in development cooperation and from self help movements highlight culturally different perceptions of disability A distinctive feature of this volume is the dialogue it creates by bringing together scientific praxis and practical work This book is a collection of virtually all the contributions presented and discussed at the symposium Local Concepts and Beliefs about Disability in Different Cultures Here people with disabilities from both North and South met with special education professionals people working in development cooperation organizations and students and academics from different disciplines concerned with disability and started a dialogue which is reflected in this volume This dialogue which was initiated at the symposium should serve to continue in greater depth on the basis of this anthology The reader has the further aim of carrying the dialogue beyond the restricted circle of symposium participants and making it accessible and comprehensible to a wider public Disability in Different Cultures is an essential issue in development cooperation On the one hand disabilities whether physical mental or emotional can be seen as parameters for the structural disadvantaging and deficits of the countries with so called catching up development They are very frequently the results of hunger malnutrition and wars Thus NGOs are confronted with the issue of disability regardless of the social and economic areas with which they are concerned Another reason for addressing the issue of Disability in Different Cultures is that it is wide reaching even if it is evident at first glance and relates to the emancipatory potential of the topic In exploring the wide variety of local concepts of and different ideas and beliefs about disability it becomes strikingly clear just how differently a disability may be judged In this light disability can no longer be perceived as a physical psychological or mental characteristic that a person is born with or has acquired in the course of her or his life It becomes evident that to a large degree attitudes and interaction with others which are usual in the respective social context form and influences the nature and extent of a disability thereby determines the life of the disabled person
