

NOTES IN STYLISTIC AND DISCOURSE DEVELOPMENT

Linguistic vs. Extralingual Contexts

2. Linguistic Context

A linguistic context is the encirclement of a language unit by other language units in speech. Such encirclement makes the meaning of the unit clear and unambiguous. It is especially important in case with polysemantic words (word or phrase with multiple meanings).

Types of linguistic context:

- ✓ Microcontext is the context of a single utterance (sentence). It is the linguistic (grammatical, phonological, lexical, syntactic, etc.) environment of a text.
- ✓ Macrocontext is the context of a paragraph in a text. It is the sociolinguistic (the social ranks of the interlocutors, the epoch in which the interaction occurs of the text is written, etc.) environment of a text.
- ✓ Megaccontext is the context of a book chapter, a story or the whole book.
- ✓ Stylistic context – unity of stylistic element and its surroundings. It may be based on the similarity of equivalent words or their contrast. Stylistic context very often is based on the convergence. Convergence denotes an accumulation at a given point of the text or several stylistic devices, each device adds its expressivity to that of others, and thus the total effect may be a striking emphasis. (e.g. and heaved, and heaved, still unhesitatingly heaved the black sea, as if its vast tides were a conscience. – simile, repetition, inversion and polysyndeton).
- ✓ Micropoetic – the context limited by a complete sentence.
- ✓ Macropoetic – the context of paragraph or the whole text. It may spread on 2 any stylistically relevant part of the text (a paragraph, a complex syntactical unit or a whole text).

Discourse Development:

Discourse Development S. A. Kuczaj, 2012-12-06 For some time now the study of cognitive development has been far and away the most active discipline within developmental psychology. Although there would be much disagreement as to the exact proportion of papers published in developmental journals that could be considered cognitive, 50% seems like a conservative estimate. Hence a series of scholarly books devoted to work in cognitive development is especially appropriate at this time. The Springer Series in Cognitive Development contains two basic types of books, namely edited collections of original chapters by several authors and original volumes written by one author or a small group of authors. The flagship for the Springer Series is a serial publication of the advances type carrying the subtitle Progress in Cognitive Development Research. Each volume in the Progress sequence is strongly thematic in that it is limited to some well-defined domain of cognitive developmental research, e.g. logical and mathematical development, development of learning. All Progress volumes will be edited collections. Editors of such collections, upon consultation with the Series Editor, may elect to have their books published either as contributions to the Progress sequence or as separate volumes. All books written by one author or a small group of authors are being published as separate volumes within the series.

Discourses through the mediumship of Mrs. Cora L.V. Tappan. The new science. Spiritual ethics Cora Linn V. Richmond, 1875 The Development of Reading Skills Thomas H. Carr, 1985 Focusing on how children learn to read in a language they have previously only spoken, this book illustrates the skill theory of reading development which encompasses both new perceptual processes and modified but familiar integrative cognitive processes of language comprehension. The chapters discuss the following aspects of learning to read: 1. phonemic analysis, spelling and reading; 2. literacy background and reading development in a second language; 3. knowing words and understanding texts; 4. discourse structure and mental models; 5. the impact of classroom activities on beginning reading development; 6. using component skills analysis to integrate findings on reading development; and 7. bridging the gap between theory and practice in reading. The final chapter lists several journals that publish high quality research on reading and a number of books that provide systematic introduction to the area of reading.
