Southern-Led

Development Finance Diana Barrowclough, Kevin P. Gallagher, Richard Kozul-Wright, 2020-09-29 Southern Led

Development Finance examines some of the innovative new south south financial arrangements and institutions that have emerged in recent years as countries from the Global South seek to transform their economies and to shield themselves from global economic turbulence Even before the Covid 19 crisis it was clear to many that the global economy needed a reset and a massive increase in public investment In the last decade southern owned development banks infrastructure funds foreign exchange reserve funds and Sovereign Wealth Funds have doubled the amount of long term finance available to developing countries Now as the world considers what a post Covid 19 future will look like it is clear that Southern led institutions will do much of the heavy lifting This book brings together insights from theory and practice incorporating the voices of bankers policymakers and practitioners alongside international academics It covers the most significant new initiatives stemming from Asia tried and tested examples in Latin America and in Africa and the contribution of advanced economies Whilst the book highlights the potential for Southern led initiatives to change the global financial landscape profoundly it also shows their varied impacts and concludes that more is needed for development than just the technical availability of funds As governments and businesses become frustrated by the traditional North dominated mechanisms and international financial system this book argues that southern led development finance will play an important role in the search for more inclusive equitable and sustainable patterns of investment trade and growth in the post Covid landscape It will be of interest to practitioners policy makers researchers and students working on development and finance everywhere
