Causes Of Evolution

David J. Buller

Causes Of Evolution:

The Causes of Evolution John Burdon Haldane, 1990-10-10 J B S Haldane 1892-1964 one of the founders of the science of population genetics was also one of the greatest practitioners of the art of explaining science to the layperson Haldane was a superb story teller as his essays and his children's books attest In The Causes of Evolution he not only helped to marry the new science of genetics to the older one of evolutionary theory but also provided an accessible introduction to the genetical basis of evolution by natural selection Egbert Leigh's new introduction to this classic work places it in the context of the ongoing study of evolution Describing Haldane's refusal to be confined by a System as a light hearted one Leigh points out that we are now finding that Haldane's questions are the appropriate next stage in learning how adaptation can evolve We are now ready to reap the benefit of the fact that Haldane was a free man in the sense that really matters

The Causes of Molecular Evolution John H. Gillespie, 1991 This work provides a unified theory that addresses the important problem of the origin and maintenance of genetic variation in natural populations With modern molecular techniques variation is found in all species sometimes at astonishingly high levels Yet despite these observations the forces that maintain variation within and between species have been difficult subjects of study Because they act very weakly and operate over vast time scales scientists must rely on indirect inferences and speculative mathematical models However despite these obstacles many advances have been made The author's research in molecular genetics evolution and bio mathematics has enabled him to draw on this work and present a coherent and valuable view of the field The book is divided into three parts The first consists of three chapters on protein evolution DNA evolution and molecular mechanisms This section reviews the experimental observations on genetic variation The second part gives a unified treatment of the mathematical theory of selection in a fluctuating environment The final two chapters combine the earlier assessments in a treatment of the scientific status of two competing theories for the maintenance of genetic variation Steeped in the enormous advances population genetics has made over the past 25 years this book will be of interest to human geneticists biologists evolutionary theorists and bio mathematicians Evolutionary Causation Tobias Uller, Kevin N. Lala, 2019-09-03 A comprehensive treatment of the concept of causation in evolutionary biology that makes clear its central role in both historical and contemporary debates Most scientific explanations are causal This is certainly the case in evolutionary biology which seeks to explain the diversity of life and the adaptive fit between organisms and their surroundings The nature of causation in evolutionary biology however is contentious How causation is understood shapes the structure of evolutionary theory and historical and contemporary debates in evolutionary biology have revolved around the nature of causation Despite its centrality and differing views on the subject the major conceptual issues regarding the nature of causation in evolutionary biology are rarely addressed This volume fills the gap bringing together biologists and philosophers to offer a comprehensive interdisciplinary treatment of evolutionary causation Contributors first address biological motivations for rethinking evolutionary causation considering the ways in which development extra genetic inheritance and niche construction challenge notions of cause and process in evolution and describing how alternative representations of evolutionary causation can shed light on a range of evolutionary problems Contributors then analyze evolutionary causation from a philosophical perspective considering such topics as causal entanglement the commingling of organism and environment and the relationship between causation and information Contributors John A Baker Lynn Chiu David I Dayan Ren e A Duckworth Marcus W Feldman Susan A Foster Melissa A Graham Heikki Helanter Kevin N Lala Armin P Moczek John Odling Smee Jun Otsuka Massimo Pigliucci Arnaud Pocheville Arlin Stoltzfus Karola Stotz Sonia E Sultan Christoph Thies Tobias Uller Denis M Walsh Richard A Watson

In Search of the Causes of Evolution Peter R. Grant, B. Rosemary Grant, 2010-11-21 Evolutionary biology has witnessed breathtaking advances in recent years Some of its most exciting insights have come from the crossover of disciplines as varied as paleontology molecular biology ecology and genetics This book brings together many of today s pioneers in evolutionary biology to describe the latest advances and explain why a cross disciplinary and integrated approach to research questions is so essential Contributors discuss the origins of biological diversity mechanisms of evolutionary change at the molecular and developmental levels morphology and behavior and the ecology of adaptive radiations and speciation They highlight the mutual dependence of organisms and their environments and reveal the different strategies today s researchers are using in the field and laboratory to explore this interdependence Peter and Rosemary Grant renowned for their influential work on Darwin s finches in the Gal pagos provide concise introductions to each section and identify the key questions future research needs to address In addition to the editors the contributors are Myra Awoodey Christopher N Balakrishnan Rowan D H Barrett May R Berenbaum Paul M Brakefield Philip J Currie Scott V Edwards Douglas J Emlen Joshua B Gross Hopi E Hoekstra Richard Hudson David Jablonski David T Johnston Mathieu Joron David Kingsley Andrew H Knoll Mimi A R Koehl June Y Lee Jonathan B Losos Isabel Santos Magalhaes Albert B Phillimore Trevor Price Dolph Schluter Ole Seehausen Clifford J Tabin John N Thompson and David B Wake

A Practical Philosophy for the Life Sciences Wim J. van der Steen, 1993-01-01 This book integrates philosophy of biology and philosophy of medicine with the purpose of making philosophy practical for students and scientists It contains many exercises and examples from live science Much attention is given to the translation of scientific reasoning into the language of philosophy The author shows that philosophical models can be used to evaluate science if the limitations of the models are recognized so they can be applied in the proper context On the other hand some philosophical views of science need to be corrected by science The book puts philosophy and science in a broader perspective It integrates practical philosophy and ethics in applications to live science and uncovers limitations of current ethical theory

Adapting Minds David J. Buller, 2006-02-17 Was human nature designed by natural selection in the Pleistocene epoch The dominant view in evolutionary psychology holds that it was that our psychological adaptations were designed tens of thousands of years ago to solve problems faced by our hunter gatherer ancestors In this provocative and lively book David Buller examines in detail the major claims of evolutionary psychology the paradigm popularized by Steven Pinker in The Blank Slate and by David Buss in The Evolution of Desire and rejects them all This does not mean that we cannot apply evolutionary theory to human psychology says Buller but that the conventional wisdom in evolutionary psychology is misguided Evolutionary psychology employs a kind of reverse engineering to explain the evolved design of the mind figuring out the adaptive problems our ancestors faced and then inferring the psychological adaptations that evolved to solve them In the carefully argued central chapters of Adapting Minds Buller scrutinizes several of evolutionary psychology's most highly publicized discoveries including discriminative parental solicitude the idea that stepparents abuse their stepchildren at a higher rate than genetic parents abuse their biological children Drawing on a wide range of empirical research including his own large scale study of child abuse he shows that none is actually supported by the evidence Buller argues that our minds are not adapted to the Pleistocene but like the immune system are continually adapting over both evolutionary time and individual lifetimes We must move beyond the reigning orthodoxy of evolutionary psychology to reach an accurate understanding of how human psychology is influenced by evolution When we do Buller claims we will abandon not only the quest for human nature but the very idea of human nature itself

Principles of Animal Biology Aaron Franklin Shull, George Roger Larue, Alexander Grant Ruthven, 1920 Zoology is the science of animals This was the definition centuries ago when zoology was almost exclusively the classification and naming of animals Since that time there has arisen a vast body of doctrine concerning modes of life life processes inter relations of animals development distribution and descent most of which has little bearing on classification which is now founded upon principles as basic as those underlying other branches of science For the purposes of this volume anything that has to do with animals is part of zoology This book is in practice one long definition of zoology It includes morphology physiology ecology zoogeography paleontology taxonomy and evolution as part of the zoological sciences This book being a general discussion will contain elementary facts and principles from each of these branches of science Students should find it a useful exercise to stop and reflect which of the divisions of zoology are at any given moment actually being studied
